DEATH TOLL OF GREAT HEAT WAVE MOUNTS

Mayor's Brief To Premier Reveals Position Of City

Sir George Perley's "Improved Conditions" Statement Is Contradicted by Facts Presented by Victoria's Chief Magistrate; City Shrinking, Tax Delinquents Growing, Homes Jeopardized, Payrolls Are Smaller

Figures flatly contradicting the optimistic statement of Sir George Perley, Acting Prime Minister, to the effect improved conditions were showing the burden of unemployment relief on local authorities, were forwarded to-day to Premier D. B. Pattullo by Mayor David Leeming in a brief on Victoria's financial condition, for submission at the forthcoming conference of provincial and federal heads on unemployment at Ottawa.

Without assurance that he would secure a hearing at the federal meeting, Mayor Leeming went ahead with the preparation of a brief for the information of the provincial premier. It shows conditions to be the reverse of improved as far as this city is concerned.

In it he declares Victoria's population is now shrinking; the annual per capita consumption has dropped 27½ per cent from that of 1921; that the property owners on the city roll are 50 below what they were four years ago; that the number of tax-payers in arrears at the end of last year was 2,058 above that of 1930, showing a decrease of $66,421.67 in payments during that period; that the revenue subject to a twelve-month period, was $1,011,266 at the end of last year above that of 1930; that the number of families on relief for May and June of this year are considerably above those of the same months in 1932; that there is a slump in the lumber industry; that the collection of current taxes last year were 11.35 per cent below those of 1930.

DOUMERGUE CABINET SAVED

Threat of Split Ended When French Premier Threatens Resignation

By George Hamilton, Canadian Press Staff Writer
Paris, July 24.—The French cabinet will continue in office.

Premier Gaston Doumergue to-day laid down the law to his ministers who have been in a serious split since a quarrel broke out between Andre Tardieu of the right and Camille Chautouren of the left.

This afternoon "Papa" Doumergue headed the breach and it was decided the government would continue without any resignations. The decision was reached only after two hours of discussion by the cabinet.

M. Doumergue played his trump card. He plainly told his warlike colleagues that either the government could be maintained intact, or its collective resignation—with the inevitable consequences—would follow. If the government by individual resignations lost its character of political truth, he declared, then he would resign himself.

THAT SETTLED IT.

The blust intimation settled the matter.

Immediately after the cabinet, M. Doumergue, on behalf of the Radical-Socialist ministers, issued a communique announcing that in view of the Premier's declaration they had decided to remain in the government. The position, however, must later be settled.

Embargo On Materials Of War For Chaco Armies

London, July 24.—The British Government to-day announced it would enforce a complete embargo on shipments of war material to Paraguay and Bolivia, now at war in the Chaco desert, but "before taking this action," it urged other governments to put a similar embargo in force before the end of July.

Ottawa, July 24.—Italy, France and Spain informed the League of Nations to-day they are taking measures to prohibit the supply of any war material to Paraguay and Bolivia.

Great Britain, the United States, Canada, Denmark, Argentina, Brazil and Switzerland have already announced they have put an embargo in force.

AIR TRAIN IS TO CARRY MAIL

New York, July 24.—An "air train" composed of a motor-powered biplane and three glider trailers, is expected to take off next Monday from Floyd Bennett Field with mail for Philadelphia, Washington and Baltimore, according to an announcement here.

It is claimed the flight will be the first attempt to operate a glider train for the carrying of mail. Such flights for other purposes have been made in the past in this country and in Europe.

DILLINGER SR. IS GIVEN BODY

Father Sees Remains of Son Stain as Outlaw in Chicago

Chicago, July 24.—John Dillinger Sr. looked on the body of his son to-day for the first time since the desperado was shot down.

The seventy-year-old Indiana farmer and his other son, Hubert, were left alone with the body of John in an undertaking parlor.

With tears glistening in his aging eyes, the elder Dillinger gazed for a few moments at the bullet torn face of his son.

"My boy!"

Those were the only words that escaped his lips as he struggled to hold back his emotion. Hubert, brother of the late John, put an arm around the old man and his face was white.

The body was released from the county morgue to-day.

Patently the elder Dillinger had waited throughout last night for the authority that would allow the body of his son on its last ride—to a cemetery in Indiana where the grave of the wife and mother is.

The battered hearse was almost torn to pieces by memento seekers. It had to be locked away. And while the father waited, enterprising kid hunters for scraps of John Dillinger's personal possessions, through jammed the morgue to view the body.

Chicago, July 24.—Gold lured John Dillinger on his career of crime and gold lured him to his death.

POLICEMAN IS WOUNDED

Man Who Says He Is G. Casey of Vancouver Arrested in Winnipeg

Winnipeg, July 24.—Police Sergeant J. Verne was shot three times and critically wounded and a man giving him the name as George Casey of Vancouver, is under arrest, following an automobile chase through the business district of Winnipeg to-day.

Police say Casey confessed to the robbing of five drug stores in Winnipeg during the last few weeks.

This morning a band of the Northridge drug store, in Norwood, a suburb, held up the proprietor and two clerks, tied them to chairs and took cash, jewelry and narcotics he carried.

THREE SHOTS FIRED

As the robber left the store a passerby became suspicious and pointed him out to Sergeant Verne. By that time the man had entered.

BIG FOREST FIRES FOLLOW DROUGHT

Oklahoma City, July 24.—Forest fires caused a new menace to Oklahoma's drought-stricken forests to-day as the federal relief administration prepared to serve emergency rations of water to human beings in any section where the drought is acute.

Eighteen forest fires were reported, the most serious being a blaze spreading along a fifteen-mile front in Pottawatomie County, burning up pastures which was supporting 5,000 head of cattle believed to be from sections where the drought was most severe.

Now Ready For Big B.C. Relief Count

Separate Forms for Farmers and Transients Under New Plan
Fuller History of Cases to Be Secured; Covers 98,000 People

Brief administration officials to-day were making final arrangements for the re-registration of all relief recipients in the province.

Starting to-morrow relief offices in every part of the province will start the work of checking each of the 98,000 old persons listed as being dependent upon public aid.

Under the new set up, all recipients will have to make new applications for relief. Three different kinds of registration forms will be used in place of the one standard form.

One of these will be to take the history of transients, who must give a full history of their movements since entering the province.

Another is especially for farmers and requires information as to size of farm, crops and value of produce. This will be to determine whether farmers drawing relief are making a proper effort to better their condition.

The ordinary forms will be little changed.

Banks Soon May Reduce Interest On Deposits

Ottawa, July 24.—Prospects of "cheaper money" in the contemplated legislation by the government this fall may result in lower interest rates paid by the banks on deposits, according to a statement given on Parliament Hill.

The government expects its big re-funding loan will be issued at a much lower rate of interest than the loan which the new one will liquidate.

Nothing definite emerged in a week from the conference between the government and representative bankers, but it was known the general financial situation was considered and the market conditions thoroughly surveyed with a view to placing the re-funding loan. The bankers do not have a cut in interest rates since such a reduction would displace their customers to seek other investments.

BOARD NAMED ON TAXATION

Finance Department Officials Study Set-up of Provincial Levies

A special board of departmental officials has been selected by Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, to study British Columbia's taxation problems with a view to revision next year it became known to-day.

In the absence of Mr. Hart, who left yesterday evening on his way to Ottawa, the personnel of the board was not disclosed, but it will probably include J. B. Fisher, statistician, who at present is acting as commissioner of North Vancouver city and district.

Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the Economic Council, who is an economist, will act in an advisory capacity.

It has already been hinted the government is considering changes in the income tax field.

GRAIN LOSSES ARE CAUSED BY HEAT

Ottawa, July 24.—Another week of extremely high temperatures and limited rainfall caused further damage to prairie grain crops, according to a bulletin issued to-day by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The drought became more severe in areas previously affected and extended into districts where crops were good.

RAIN HALTS TENNIS PLAY

Wimbledon, July 24.—With Sidney R. Wood Jr. leading Jack Crawford, Australian ace, two sets, to none and 15-love in the first game of the third set in the interzone final series of Davis Cup play between the United States and Australia play to-day was postponed until to-morrow because of rain.

Rain Robs Aussies Of Likely Victory

With Australians Enjoying Large Lead and Only Four Wickets to Fall in England's Second Innings, Fourth Test Cricket Match at Leeds Is Abandoned

London, Eng., July 24.—Rain washed victory out of the grasp of the Australians to-day and the fourth test cricket match of the season was abandoned. The rubber will be decided by the last match of the series next month, to be played to a finish.

Rain halted play before lunch-time, and although it stopped in mid-afternoon, repeated inspections of the wetted showed it was unplayable. Shortly before the time limit arrived, it was decided to abandon the play.

When play stopped, England had added 226 runs for six wickets to her first innings score of 300, leaving a deficit of 155 runs in view of Australia's fine score of 584. The Australian needed only four wickets to win by a full innings and wanted to resume play a couple of hours before the close, but were overruled by the umpires.

Play got underway at 11:07 a.m. and after Grimmett and O'Reilly had bowled two maidens each, a down-pour stopped play. It ceased in ten minutes when a watery sun appeared. Play started again at 11:42 a.m.

BIG ROUNDUP IN AUSTRIA

Dollfuss Government Arrests 1,200 Socialists; Bomber Is Hanged

Vienna, July 24.—Twelve hundred Socialists were arrested to-day in connection with an alleged plot to overthrow the Dollfuss government. It was the biggest round-up of political prisoners since the bloody February civil war.

Political police were picking up threads of evidence which they said indicated Socialists, Communists and Nazis had merged into a common front for a great campaign of terror against the Fascist government.

The government spokesman explained most of the arrests were merely "preventive" pending a search of suspects.

Beach Babies

You're only to look at the smiling face of Muriel, here perched on the top of a friendly log at the Lagoon Beach, to realize what a wonderful time the kiddies are having at the seaside during the summer holidays.

Muriel is the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jones of Colquhoun. It's second nature to take a camera along on a beach party. Snap of the children at play, providing they are clear enough to pass muster with the engravers, will be reproduced in the Beach Babies column of this paper. Just snap 'em and send the prints along to the news editor.

Commission Sought On "Better Terms"

B.C. to Present Case Again to Federal Government Next Month

In argument before the federal cabinet at the beginning of next month, British Columbia representatives will attempt to have a royal commission appointed to consider the case for better terms.

This was made public this morning when Premier Pattullo received a wire from Premier Bennett advising that the B.C. case would be heard following the hearing of arguments by the Maritime Provinces which are scheduled to start August 1.

This means that Attorney-General Gordon Sloan will accompany the Premier, Hon. John Hart and Hon. George A. Pearson, who are going east to the unemployment relief conference.

Mr. Sloan has made a thorough study of the better terms history during the last two weeks and has prepared a comprehensive brief for submission to the federal cabinet. If the commission is appointed, the province, of course, will ask for an increased federal subsidy and a revision of the per capita "aid" allowance.

Strike of Handlers at Stockyards in Chicago Results in Tie-up Which Makes It Necessary to Shoot Numbers of Weakened Animals; Government Asked to Stop Sending Cattle From Drought Areas

Temperature 120 In Iowa District

Chicago, July 24.—The death toll mounted to 835 to-day as intense heat blazed down on the United States, smashing records for intensity and duration.

The blanket of heat, as tension and oppressive as a mustard plaster, showed signs of loosening at the edges, but in the Midwest, where its effects are greatest, no relief was sighted.

An unofficial 120-degree temperature was recorded at Muscatine, Iowa, and above 100-degree readings were general throughout the central western states.

TOO MANY CATTLE

In Chicago, packers and officials, deluged with record shipments of cattle because of the drought, appealed to government officials to stop the flood of starving animals being brought with federal funds from destitute farmers and shipped there for processing.

At the centre of the heat wave, now 150 parish and Illinois was second with 120.

The heat toll for the present week follows: Missouri, 134; Illinois, 127; Nebraska, 54; Ohio, 4; Iowa, 40; Minnesota, 25; Indiana, 19; Pennsylvania, 13; Michigan, 13; Texas, 11; Kentucky, 12; Oklahoma, 7; Tennessee, 4; Wisconsin, 4; and Georgia, 1. The total in the fifteen states is 555.

ANIMALS SHOT

Chicago, July 24.—Weakened animals had to be shot at the Union Stockyards to-day as a strike stopped efficient feeding and watering in a blistering temperature.

The livestock commission, Iowa's union, local 516, joined a walkout of stock handlers at the Chicago Union Stockyards to-day, bringing the total on strike to 1,500.

The temperature hovered around the 100 mark. The commission men had helped handle the animals and when they quit only a handful of workers, while shirking duties and apathetic, remained to feed and water the 75,000 head of stock.

There was no strike and the action of the commission men put an end to all hopes there would be one to-day.

A police cordon was hastily thrown about the yards. Farmers were forced to take truck loads of cattle home.

The yards were choked to-day with the flood of starving animals being shipped due to heavy shipments from the drought area.

Officials of the Union Stockyards and Transim Company have appealed to Federal Judge Philip Kaufman for aid.

Sooke Field Day To-morrow

Celebration to Be Held at Flats; Sports Programme and Baby Show

With the promise of fine weather, Sooke to-day looked forward to its most outstanding celebration in decades at Sooke river flats to-morrow as residents of the locality joined in a great field day, highlights of which will include a baggy sports programme, a baby show for the Times Trophy and an all-fish salmon bake and chowder party.

For several weeks an active committee has been busy arranging the event, and has now completed plans for festivities which should equal any held by a rural district on the island in recent years.

All proceeds from the function will be devoted towards the erection of a community hall.

an automobile, and Sergeant Verne stepped into a car and took up the chase, which led down Main Street in Winnipeg, to the Canadian National yards. Both cars stopped and as Sgt. Verne was stepping out, the rubber tired three times at the officer, all shots lodging in his abdomen. Spectators quickly notified police headquarters and heavy forces were sent to the area. Finally Casey was picked up in the yards.

IN HOSPITAL
Sergeant John Verne, a veteran member of the St. Boniface police force, this afternoon was in the St. Boniface Hospital, which reported his condition was critical. The full extent of his wounds had not yet been determined.

DILLINGER SR. IS GIVEN BODY

Officers found $7.70 in his pockets, after his body, punctured with bullets, had been picked up in an alley near a north side theatre Sunday evening. Dillinger, investigators concluded, was "broke," or unable to reach any hidden bank robbery loot, and therefore could no longer pay to keep closed the lines of communication to the authorities.

Alive, Dillinger was not worth much in dollars. Dead, there was a price tag of $15,000 on his head. And, that, the investigators concluded, is why someone "put him on the spot." Who it was is a secret.

WOMAN IN RED
There were reports a woman, dressed in red, was beside the dead body, and that it was she who had fired the shot. The same reports said the woman was hiding away in a hotel, closely guarded by federal agents.

"Don't discuss it," said Melvin Purvis, chief of the federal agents who were waiting for Dillinger outside the theatre.

"Probably," said Purvis, "the person who gave the tip will never be criminally discussed."

There was every indication, however, that federal officials knew who supplied the information that ended the chase of the Indiana outlaw. Attorney-General Homer S. Cummings, who stopped in Chicago yesterday evening briefly while en route to Hawaii, said he knew who had furnished the tip, but that he would not direct payment of the $15,000 reward until after his return from the mid-Pacific.

The "girl in red" and a woman companion were reported by the Chicago police to be held, but the federal agents denied this.

WATCHED FOR WEEK
Chicago, July 24.—The Chicago Herald and Examiner in a copyrighted story today said John Dillinger had been under police observation for a week before he was shot and killed Sunday night by federal Department of Justice agents.

The central figure in the case, the newspaper said, quoting Capt. Timothy A. O'Neill of the East Chicago, Ind., police, who was at the scene of the shooting, was a Croatian informer, a former gambling acquaintance of Dillinger.

Capt. O'Neill's story said that six weeks ago this man told him he had seen Dillinger. Capt. O'Neill said if this was true the man had an excellent chance to collect $25,000 reward money for information leading to the capture of the outlaw.

The man then told him he had seen Dillinger in front of the Biograph Theatre on two occasions.

SEATTLE TRIAL IS POSTPONED

Henry Reifel Is Not Well Enough to Travel From Vancouver

Associated Press
Seattle, July 24.—A continuance until next Monday of the hearing here of Henry Reifel and his son, George, Vancouver, B.C., distillers facing liquor conspiracy charges, was granted today when physicians asserted the elder Reifel was suffering from severe nervous strain and shock caused by his arrest July 6. The two men were to be arraigned this morning before U.S. Commissioner H. S. Elliott, but at the time set for the hearing Don G. Eggerman, attorney for the Reifels, appeared with medical certificates from Vancouver physicians stating the elder Reifel had been suffering physical disability and was unable to stand the trip from Vancouver here. The two Reifels are at liberty on bonds of $100,000 each.

PARLIAMENT LEADERS MEET

Empire Delegates Assemble in London; Next Year's Convention Discussed

Associated Press
London, July 24.—A proposal that the next empire parliamentary congress be held in London next year was strongly supported at the annual meeting of the Empire Commonwealth Association held today in the House of Commons.

Speakers pointed out that next year would afford a favorable opportunity as leaders from the Dominions and colonies will be in London for the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the coronation of King George and Queen Mary.

Mr. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, moving from the annual report, outlined the work of the association.

Mr. George Lansbury, who heads the Labor Party, gave a address on the occasion of his first public speech since his accident last winter. He declared himself a firm believer in the Empire.

SOCIALIST HANGED
Vienna, July 24.—Josef Gerl, twenty-two, a socialist who shot and wounded a policeman in the course of a bombing, was hanged today on a gallows erected in the Vienna district prison courtyard.

He was executed within three hours of the time a jury had found him and a companion, Rudolf Ansbach, guilty of the bombing which, under the new decree of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss, is punishable by death. President Miklas, however, pardoned Ansbach just before he was to be executed.

The death sentences were the first imposed since Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss started his latest "drive against terrorism."

Ansbach, twenty-one, a hatter, and Gerl, twenty-two, a goldsmith, were poorly dressed, looked undernourished and bore signs of rough handling. Both gave their religion as Roman Catholic.

Ansbach is an Austrian and Gerl a Czechoslovak.

They tried to escape into Czechoslovakia after dynamiting the Danube River banks railway July 21, shooting and seriously wounding a policeman.

Asked why they had dynamited the railroad, Gerl said their ambition was to strike a blow against the government. He also said he had killed the people.

Life under the regime of Chancellor Dollfuss had become unbearable for the socialists anyway, Gerl testified, adding: "It may yet come to pass that instead of seven suicides there will be seven terrorists."

Gerl said one of his motives was to prevent a reconciliation between Dollfuss and the Nazis on the theory that if terrorism ceased and the Nazis co-operated with the government, there would be less chance than ever for the socialists.

"However," he said, "I would rather see the Nazis than this government."

"No Nazi has yet been hanged in Austria. Nine socialists were hanged for the anti-government violence in the February civil war and three recently were killed in an attempt to hold a socialist mass meeting.

The gendarmes and police were immediately given orders to remain in readiness for retaliatory trouble.

Commission Sought On "Better Terms"

The B.C. proposal to have the Pacific Great Eastern Railway taken over by the federal government will be presented simultaneously. It is probable Premier Pattison will speak on both subjects and the Attorney General follow up with the legal side of the better terms. His aim will be to establish a prime fact case to justify a royal commission.

As far as the unemployment commission is concerned, the Premier had little to say, other than a reiteration of his former statement that "relief contributions must be continued."

BEER BY GLASS IN ONTARIO

Sale Started in Numerous Centres of Province To-day

Canadian Press
Toronto, July 24.—Wet and dry areas dotted Ontario today when legal sale of beer and wine by the glass was begun. "Authorities to sell" had not reached hotels or other large purveyors in some cities. In general, sale was under way in the afternoon or there were prospects of opening by evening.

There was no concerted rush or lineup to greet the opening. In some places where sale started beverage rooms soon filled, but the advent of beer and wine by the glass provided little excitement.

The only difference to the average citizen was he could drop into a hotel dining or beverage room to buy beer and wine by the glass. Instead of drinking in his home. Regulations dealing with hard liquor were not changed and purchases of these continued through government stores.

The prevailing price in Toronto and other places was twenty cents a glass, or less, or ten cents a glass.

The batsmen were watching the ball all the way to the wicket. Grimmett tried to lure Lindsay from his crease, but Lindsay lay back all the time, content to get the occasional drive to leg.

Grimmett tossed up a ball that just tried to hit Ames did, and it went straight into Brown's hands, and the wicket was down for 213 runs.

Associated Press
San Francisco, July 24.—A possible hitch in the return to work of striking United States Pacific Coast longshoremen, should they vote for arbitration, developed here today when officials of the International Longshoremen's Association said they had been informed the Labor Disputes Board "was not going to take care of the seamen."

Longshoremen here had planned to return to the docks to-morrow, Ralph Mallen, publicity representative of the I.L.A. said, but they might not do so if the board would not consider the situation as it involves the sailors also on strike.

The longshoremen cast their votes for arbitration in the belief the board would consider the cases of the seamen, Mallen said.

The only difference to the average citizen was he could drop into a hotel dining or beverage room to buy beer and wine by the glass. Instead of drinking in his home. Regulations dealing with hard liquor were not changed and purchases of these continued through government stores.

The prevailing price in Toronto and other places was twenty cents a glass, or less, or ten cents a glass.

SHOT IN HEAD BY DIVORCEE

San Francisco Bridge Engineer Will Lose Sight if He Recovers, Say Doctors

San Francisco, July 24.—Shot by a woman who, police said, accused him of unfaithfulness, Richard Trench, fifty-five, an engineer inspector for the city, was shot in the head today in a critical condition in a hospital here.

"He lied and lied and lied to me," Trench's wife, Mrs. Lillian Trench, declared, as she was arrested at the scene of the shooting yesterday evening, in a garage where Trench had his car.

Mrs. Trench, police said, claimed she had discovered that Trench was going with other women despite their married engagement to marry. Physicians said the bullet, which entered the back of Trench's head, severed the optic nerve. They declared he will be blind for life if he recovers. He is a widower and has three grown children living in Vancouver, B.C.

G. G. Allison, B.C. representative of the geographic board of Canada, recommended that the mountain, lying about three miles north of the confluence of the Moose and Fraser Rivers in the Cariboo district should be known hereafter as "Mount George Graham."

STATE HEALTH INSURANCE

IT IS GRATIFYING TO LEARN THAT Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education, hopes to introduce legislation next year to give British Columbia a state health insurance scheme.

Dr. Weir intends to follow to a considerable extent the system which operates in Great Britain under which the government, the employer and the employee contribute approximately on an equal basis.

It is twenty-two years since the British scheme was introduced and there are about 20,000,000 people protected under it, while there are something like 17,000 doctors whose practices are included in its scope. Last year the fund had a surplus of $172,500,000, and the scheme celebrated its twenty-first anniversary with an announcement that it had paid out since its inception no less than $2,950,000,000.

In determining the British Columbia policy there are two factors which will be decided at the outset, and actuarial data will be required for this purpose. These are whether the scheme should be compulsory for everyone, or should be compulsory within a certain earning capacity, and optional above that; and how far benefits shall go. Medical treatment and hospitalization are, of course, the most important benefits, but nursing, dental and cash benefits will also be considered.

The state's most valuable asset is the human asset and no better investment could be made than a scheme which is directed to preserve public health. Dr. Weir is assured of the warm support of the people of this province for the proposal he expects to introduce in the Legislature next year.

THE LAW DETERMINES

THE MORNING PAPER SAYS "THERE is a section of newspaper thought in the Dominion opposed to economies in railway management," a section, "Socialistic in its proclivities, that sees in any effort at co-operation between the two transcontinental railway companies steps tending to weaken the principle of national ownership and control."

It would be interesting to learn what newspapers in Canada are opposed to economies in railway management. There are, of course, many newspapers in Canada which are resolutely opposed to turning the Canadian National Railways over to the Canadian Pacific Railway, and in this opposition they have the support of the great majority of the Canadian people, who do not propose to sanction a private monopoly in the matter of transportation.

There is a law on the statute books of this country which specifically deals with this subject. Section twenty-seven of the Canadian National-Canadian Pacific Act (1933) expressly provides that "nothing in this Act shall be deemed to authorize the amalgamation of any railway company which is comprised in the National Railways with any railway company which is comprised in the Canadian Pacific Railways, nor to authorize the unified management and control of the railway system which forms part of the Canadian National Railways with the railway system which forms part of the Canadian Pacific Railways."

There is a school of thought in Canada which continually harps upon the idea of amalgamation of the Canadian National Railways with the Canadian Pacific Railways. At frequent intervals, Mr. Beatty, president of the C.P.R., delivers a speech along these lines which is religiously approved by opponents of public ownership and advocates of a private railroad monopoly. This advocacy is merely a waste of time. Effective co-operation between the two systems is not only desirable but necessary, but any proposal that the national road be turned over to the C.P.R. and operated by that company is beyond realization.

MR. GARDINER'S CABINET

DURING THE RECENT PROVINCIAL election campaign in Saskatchewan it was argued in behalf of the Liberal party that the electors would do well to return Mr. Gardiner and his supporters because so many of them had had previous legislative experience. It was a sound argument and one that obviously was largely responsible for such a striking victory of the Liberals after only one term out of office since the creation of the province in 1905.

In the selection of his cabinet, Premier Gardiner has distributed portfolios to old hands. Four of his colleagues in the ministry were members of the government which he himself had headed until its defeat in 1929, while six were members of the last Legislature, in which, incidentally, there were twenty-six Liberals and twenty-four Conservatives, the support of the Independents enabling the Anderson government to carry on until its full constitutional term had run out.

Under the new government, therefore, the province of Saskatchewan should be assured of efficient service. In any event, the electors acted decisively, for they returned forty-nine Liberals to a Legislature which will be comprised of fifty-five members. Not a single follower of former Premier Anderson was elected. It is not always a good thing for a government to be without an active opposition; but the record of the Liberal party in office in Saskatchewan has not been tinged with any form of scandal. Mr. Gardiner can be relied upon to guard that record jealously.

COMING BACK?

THE DISCOVERY BY BATHERS AT Plymouth, England, of a ten-foot sea monster with a dog-like head reminds us that we are approaching the season when our own Cadborosaurus should stage its reappearance. The record shows that the sea-serpent was publicly reported first last fall, from which it may be presumed that it follows the salmon run. According to subsequent reports it remained in the Gulf waters for some months but as it has not been seen for a considerable time it probably went south for the spring season. This seems to dispose of the theory that its permanent residence is somewhere around Chatham Island.

Beyond doubt Cadborosaurus has been sharply missed along the coast during the last six months, for in the period in which it made daily appearances it established many close friendships and acquired a social position which made everything it did, and every remark it uttered, front page news. Victoria surely will be glad to welcome her old friend back again. It would be more than ordinarily appropriate if Cadborosaurus returned during Navy Week, since it is a matter of historic record that between the sea-serpent's family and the navy there has been an intimate friendship extending over many years, and from none will the wanderer receive a more enthusiastic reception than from the sailors of the warships which will be here on that occasion.

"LIFE INSURANCE CONSCIOUS"

LAST MONTH THE LIFE INSURANCE companies operating in Canada arranged a "Life Insurance Week," during which the importance of "financial independence through life insurance" was brought home to the public. Doubtless this special effort will bear good fruit. It has already served a useful purpose by revealing the extraordinary degree to which Canada is—in the words of The Toronto Mail and Empire—"life insurance conscious." Its people are, per head, among the largest holders of life insurance in the world, and every year they are showing increasing appreciation of its value. The relevant figures are, indeed, striking. There are in Canada 3,000,000 policyholders; over $578,000,000 new insurance was issued last year; and a total of $6,250,000,000 is in force. Our contemporary says of life insurance:

Meeting all its obligations promptly and in full, paying 100 cents on the dollar in bad times as in good, it administers a tremendous Canadian estate of over $1,800,000,000. . . . In the four distress years—1930-31-32-33—it stimulated employment and national development by investing hundreds of millions of dollars in federal, provincial, municipal, and public and corporate undertakings. In these same years it paid over $700,000,000 to its policyholders, pouring out money to meet individual needs and emergencies at the rate of $800,000 a day for every working day—week in and week out—during the whole of this period of financial stress and strain.

That this should be so speaks volumes for the enterprise of the Canadian life insurance companies, and also gives the public every ground to continue to place confidence in them.

Henry Pu Yi, monarch of Manchukuo, is reported to approve of Hitler. This is one of the worst slanders Adolf has had so far. The question now is, does Hitler approve of Henry Pu Yi, or would he rather have a Henry Pi Yu?

"If John Francis Gallagher takes unto himself a wife on or before December 25, 1936, and settles down to the respectable life of a family man, he will receive $100,000 from his aunt, Mrs. R. Zarah, of Well Hall Road, Eltham, London, England." This information was given to Mayor Webb of Winnipeg in a letter from Mrs. Zarah, who said she was obliged to make a public appeal because she had lost her nephew's address. Well, John Francis has plenty of time to think about the bargain. We wonder how many John Francis Gallaghers will have a shot at it—and how many applicants for the post of Mrs. Gallagher will there be?

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

RANK EXTRAVAGANCE
 The Border Cities Star

"It does seem to me ridiculous," Premier Hespurn tells an interviewer, "that Canada should have nine separate boards of (motion picture) censors for nine separate provinces. We should be able to get together in some national federation. I haven't given it much thought except that we could reduce the personnel of the censor board, but this business of nine separate boards seems silly."

Mr. Hespurn is right. It is silly. For years The Border Cities Star has been protesting the maintenance of nine censor boards to serve a population of 10,000,000. One national board would be plenty, if, indeed, a board is needed at all in view of the fact that few films are made in this country and we import them from nations in which they have already had official approval.

However, public sentiment would no doubt demand some censorship and a national board, serving all the provinces, should be able to do the work satisfactorily.

DEALING WITH GANGSTERS
 The San Francisco Argonaut

Criminal gangsters and their depredations, says Frederick P. Wenzley, former chief constable of the Criminal Investigation Department, New Scotland Yard, "can only be met by determined police action, backed by magistrates and judges equally resolute to protect the community. Gangs breed and increase their activities only when the administration of the law, for whatever reason, is ineffective."

Mr. Wenzley's judgment ought to be good, for his notable career covered forty-two years' active service with what is generally regarded as the most efficient police organization in the world.

In this country at least, we are too prone to rely on systems. If things go wrong, we demand a new law or a new organization, forgetting that the best law or the best method cannot accomplish much if the persons chosen to enforce it are not fully trustworthy. We elect, directly or indirectly, our judges, our prison executives, and our police. In the last analysis, it is our own fault if faithless or incapable men are placed on guard over our peace and safety.

Loose Ends

An exclusive note dispatch to this column—concerning the riots and casualties at our lake—intending the tragedy of the craft-fish family—the loss of the putt-putt boat—and the impression of Mr. Fink.

By H. B. W.

SOCIAL UPHEAVALS

OUR LAKER, July 24 (Special Dispatch to This Column)—Serious disturbances were reported at our lake in the last few days, with considerable danger to life and property.

Chief victims of recent outbreaks were the Craft-fish family, which last several members in a series of accidents. They reported that a sudden blizzard of beam wind caused them to lose their boat, apparently descending from above, attached to long strings. After coming away the craft-fish family started to harvest the beam wind, of which they are exceedingly fond. But on grasping the wind firmly with their front legs, they found themselves suddenly hauling up to the top of the water. Those who were too tenacious and refused to let go were yanked upon the beam and there treated with every indignity.

It was alleged, among other things, that the little boy from next door insisted on putting his bare foot directly in front of the craft-fish, while hurrying insults at them and during them to eat him all up, but when the unhappy prisoners attempted to accept the invitation he quickly withdrew his offer with him, and left the craft-fish in an embarrassing silence. It is also charged that he tickled their noses with a straw and, while keeping well out of their way, shouted that he wasn't afraid of them or their parents, grandmothers or descendants to the fifth generation.

And finally, it is alleged and confirmed by many reliable witnesses, including the parents of the little boy next door, that he added insult to injury by removing the bait from the fish hooks and eating it himself. This, his sister seemed to think, was a bit too far. Anyway, as there was no more risk he had to abandon craft-fishing for the rest of the day and to content himself with holding the black line, who live under the old stump, up by the tails, and the great structural weakness of line is that their tails will break off so easily if you hold them. The little boy next door feels that the engineers who design line should introduce a stronger tail in next year's models or streamline them and eliminate the tails altogether.

WICKED UNCLE

NEXT DAY, it is reported, the little boy's uncle came up from town and expostulated with his nephew. He said there was no fun catching craft-fish and bullheads and ridiculed the whole sport. After watching the craft-fishing for some time, the city uncle offered to show the fishermen how he caught trout on the fly tip of the Caribou. He said it was difficult to show how he caught trout on a fly with only a string, a bent pin and a piece of bacon rind, but he would try.

The little boy from next door says his uncle showed a remarkable finesse and cast the bacon rind with a certain elegance, but he couldn't catch any craft-fish. The more he cast, the more the craft-fish ran away from there, the boy says. His uncle said it was no true sport anyway, but he kept on casting. He said it was silly to catch craft-fish since you couldn't do anything with them except let them bite your toes and he didn't like that because he had corns. But he kept on fishing all day long, the boy says and emitted loud shouts every time he got a nibble. The boy says he couldn't get his fishing rod away from his uncle all day long. But his uncle never caught anything. When it got dark his uncle said there

SHIPWRECK

SHIPWRECK ALSO caused serious loss at our lake this week, though the newspapers, as usual, failed to report it. The trouble, as far as marine investigation can discover, was mechanical. The putt-putt boat, which propels itself by taking in large quantities of water, heating it over a candle and expelling it again with a series of explosions, started out on a long voyage across the lake without any permission from its owner. The alarm was quickly sounded and vast crowds assembled on the shore to witness what seemed likely to become a marine disaster of first magnitude.

The putt-putt boat had put-putted for over half an hour, when the high waves threatening to engulf it at any moment. The owner started to swim after it but, as he can't swim except with his hands on the bottom, he gave up the attempt after one immersion and stood on the wharf looking on.

Suddenly Mr. Fink, the nice kind gentleman who lives in the little brown cottage, had an idea in the nick of time. It was the first he had experienced and the shock of it seems to have made him nervous. Trembling from the impact of his idea, he boldly launched his canoe and started to paddle out into the lake after the putt-putt boat.

The crowd on the shore cheered loudly for Mr. Fink. The little boy from next door cried, "Go it, Fink! Go it, Fink!" and told his friends Mr. Fink was a fine fellow. Into the teeth of the gale went Mr. Fink, paddling as he went. He was not looking as if he were an unaccustomed to paddle as to ideas. In the wind the canoe would not go the way Mr. Fink had planned. It started to spin around to the south, away from the putt-putt boat. The boy kept shouting from the shore to tell Mr. Fink that the putt-putt boat lay in the opposite direction. He said Mr. Fink was a stupid fellow.

TRAGEDY

MR. FINK PADDLED and paddled, but he kept getting further away from the putt-putt boat. The canoe started to go around in a circle but the putt-putt boat just kept going straight ahead without taking any notice of anybody. Its owner kept pointing out to Mr. Fink that he was going in the wrong direction, but Mr. Fink still kept going around in a big circle, paddling furiously.

"Stupid!" said the owner. "Stupid!" said his sister. Mr. Fink looked towards the shore with a mingled look of agony and despair and then quite quietly and without comment of any sort, the canoe rolled over and Mr. Fink rolled into the lake. It took quite a while and three rowboats to rescue Mr. Fink and his canoe. When they got Mr. Fink out of the lake he looked as if he had swallowed a considerable part of it and he lay on the wharf for some time breathing hard.

"But you didn't get the putt-putt boat!" the little boy from next door shouted.

The putt-putt boat was seen to be near the opposite shore by this time and still traveling at top speed. No one volunteered to rescue it. When its owner appeared again to Mr. Fink he only groaned.

When last seen the putt-putt boat was lying on the beach across the lake and Mr. Fink was staggering home, leaving a trail of water behind him.

"Stupid!" the owner of the boat bellowed. Mr. Fink didn't seem to hear.

MANY ATTEND CIVIC PICNIC

Alderman Alex Peden Wins Feature Race on Sports Programme

A fine closing sport that overcame the heat taken by George O'Neill at the start, gave Alderman Alex Peden first place in the feature sprint of the Civic Employees' Protective Association picnic sports at Goldstream Falls on Saturday. The Aldermen were trailing the city council up to the last fifteen feet, but came through with a burst of speed to take the event.

The race was one of the most interesting of a lengthy programme of contests staged during the picnic, which was attended by approximately 400 employees, their wives and friends.

During the function Aldermen Alex Peden and Walter Luney addressed the employees, paying tribute to the loyalty shown by them to the city heads. In addition to that pair, Aldermen J. D. Hunter, John A. Werthington and Andrew McGavin represented the council at the picnic.

In a softball game played during the day, Alf Joyce's inside staff landed the outside employees a 25 to 1 defeat to avenge the result of last year's game.

NO CHANGE IN RELIEF SCALE

Switch Now Inadvisable, Esquimalt Councillors Learn From Government

The inadvisability of making any change in the existing scale of relief was the conclusion reached by the Esquimalt Council at a meeting held at the Esquimalt Hotel on Saturday night.

In view of the uncertainty existing in the relief situation due to the action of the Dominion government in neglecting to provide new agreements for the current fiscal year, and their present policy of extending in broken periods the time limit whereby they will contribute to relief expense as well as the change in the basis of cost," the latter stated, "it has been decided that it is inadvisable to make any changes in the regulations or scales at the present time."

The communication, from E. W. Griffith, administrator in the Dominion Employment Relief Branch of the Department of Labor, contained a reminder that relief payments under the present regulations are scheduled to cease at the end of this month, and it requested the municipal officials to co-operate in any way possible toward the task of making new laws and thus putting the new relief policy on a working basis.

The communication also pointed out that able-bodied people on relief were expected to work when called on. If they did not, they and their families would be put on a scrip basis.

A discussion developed among the council as to whether the relief recipients should be officially notified of the need for re-registration or whether they should be expected to call at the Municipal Hall on their own account to get themselves established under the new policy. It was finally considered that the matter would adjust itself in the ordinary course of events.

The communication was received and filed, and a resolution added that the council should be kept advised of any developments.

SOLDIERS OF CEARIST RUSSIA ON THE MARCH.

It is July 24, 1914, and the gods of war are polishing their armor. St. Petersburg, Russia, "defender of the Slavic peoples," horns of Austria's ultimatum to Serbia. In the afternoon the Russian General Staff informs Premier Rasnov that a "partial mobilization" of troops is technically impossible and would disorganize a general mobilization, if required later.

STATEMENT OF FINANCES MADE

When the estimates for the year are taken into consideration, the financial statement for Esquimalt Municipality for the six months of 1934 ending June 30 as presented at yesterday evening's meeting of the council indicates a favorable trend.

The total estimated receipts for the year were $141,508.19, while the actual receipts to June 30 are listed as $170,505.55, including a bank loan of $50,000 and a sum of $11,000.55 representing cash on hand and in the bank at the first of the year.

As an indication of the rather promising financial position, the estimated collection for the whole year on taxes in arrears was $5,520, while the actual collection at the end of June was $4,264.07. In addition, $2,815.28 was collected on delinquent taxes, which are taxes which have been in arrears for a year or more.

A total of $63,190 was collected in six months on the year's general tax estimate of $71,423.33, which is considered good. On an estimated average rate and rental collection of $2,252.47 for the year, a sum of $5,939.81 was raised in six months.

Certain items listed in the receipt column were not included in the estimates and thus the totals on estimates and receipts given above need slight modification. For instance, there were no estimates on relief receipts from the government on sinking funds and on sundry smaller items, such as the interest on debentures sold under the Bank Overdraft By-law, advance taxes, high school fees, etc. In all, the sum included in receipts and not included in estimates totals some $6,000.

Receipts from the government for married men's general relief totaled $1,464.18, for single men's direct relief $200.88, and for direct relief $249.50.

The total estimated disbursements for the year were $151,190.73, while the actual disbursements for the six months were $155,468.82, making cash on hand and in the bank at the end of June of $27,508.90.

Some expense items for the six months are: Public works, $5,181.70; public health, $1,081.10; police expense, $2,943.69; office expense, $1,504.50; general expense, $1,517.40; direct relief, single men, $708.50; relief on hand, $3,768.88; schools, $10,628.40; payment on bank loans, $60,000.

The revenue and councillors expressed themselves as pleased with the financial statement in its general nature.

St. Louis Becomes Serious Threat In National Baseball Race

THE SPORTS MIRROR

MAJOR league magnates, pained at the criticism in regard to the personnel of the teams, are threatening to change the annual American and National League all-star game, which played to 30,000 persons and turned 15,000 more away at the Polo Grounds the other afternoon.

After having been clubbed into doing something out of the ordinary for their patrons, the business men, owners and themselves after all these years, the owners seriously consider pulling down the curtain on the finest show window the sport has ever known.

It was movements of the kind that prompted Barney Dreyfus to assert, "Baseball succeeds in spite of the fact that it is a game of the past, a relic of a quarter of a century ago. Baseball is but in its infancy, still holds good in so far as the now $50,000,000 industry's relations with the people and the way they pay."

Because Joe Cronin and Bill Terry did not immediately hop upon the band wagon and declare the 1934 edition of the game, the owners are now looking for the better in selecting the noble athletes, many newspapers which had gone to considerable trouble and expense in conducting the poll, remained organized baseball, and the two managers in particular, that, after all, there was pay, the freight worth consideration.

It really didn't amount to much, for, after all, practically all the stadiums were filled to the top, up at one time or another. It was a remarkable show, and no one departed dissatisfied, except the moguls, who persist on getting mad because they are given gold and silver, publicity and fame for nothing—advertising that could not be purchased at any price.

The owners—the National League and the American League—take the position that they should not be panned from one side of America to the other for doing a kindly thing. The players, on the other hand, which does a splendid job of looking after the aged, ill and indigent, give the net receipts, which for the second year amounted to $40,000.

The game costs the magnates $50,000 in salaries, while the performance looks the gates of seven others for two days. The last revenue is made up, however, by lengthening the schedule to the situation.

There is no question that the production is a headache to managers whose straps are in the thick of pennant fights. The players, on the other hand, especially pitching turns, Terry unquestionably was greatly pleased to yank Carl Hubbell after three brilliant rounds, and probably would not have worked the Chicago man at all had not the demand been so strong. There is the risk of injury also. Frankie Frisch pulled up lame.

And one of the most strenuous objections offered by the owners is their fear that showing stars at a cut rate may affect the world series, which fell off in attendance and receipts last fall.

They deem it unwise to trot out their stars, as the Chicago, Cincinnati, Boston, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit, New York, and Pittsburgh, who have been playing for the pennant, will be stupid enough to drop the all-star game, if for no other reason than that, if they did so, the public could point at them and say: "Why, you walked out even on your own charity."

No longer is the "Home for the Aged" sign tacked up on third base in the major league ballparks. The old hat career, burning up this year by reason of the fact that the Chicago White Sox, who have been playing for the pennant, will be stupid enough to drop the all-star game, if for no other reason than that, if they did so, the public could point at them and say: "Why, you walked out even on your own charity."

There was a veteran infielder who had hit his tip, but still had a good noddle on his shoulders, would be shifted from second to short to third. This was evident in the case of little Joe Sewell, who, when he showed up at short for Cleveland, was shifted to third and stayed there until his last active year in 1933 with the New York Yankees.

More recently this was demonstrated in the Yankee lineup, when Tony Cuccinelli was moved from second to third to make room for young Sam Rice, and later relegated to the bench in favor of Jack Salsbery.

You will find only a few greybeards swinging creaking joints into action at third base. Willie Davis, at thirty-four, is playing the hot corner for the Cleveland Indians—the owner's underpinning is beginning to show long and low. Jimmy Piersall is doing a steady trade at third for the Chicago White Sox at the age of thirty-eight. Pie Traynor still cuts up at the far turn for the Pittsburgh Pirates, doing thirty-five years in his shoulders, and Gene Blum and Marty McManus, although not greybeards, are playing third every now and then with only a flash of the stuff they showed in their heydays.

Take a look at the third baseman in the majors, Jack Salsbery, twenty-eight, by moving to first base in the Chicago White Sox. Gene Davis, twenty, is making quite a name for himself in Ohio Blum's place at Washington. Frank Reynolds, twenty-five, Chicago White Sox, is headed (Turn to Page 13, Col. 7)

Four Horses Are Banned to Death

Salem, N.Y., July 24.—A fire at the Rockingham race track was brought under control today after four horses were burned to death and two stables were leveled.

The horses destroyed were Old Bep and Veto, owned by Mrs. T. C. White, Baltimore, and Arrow-swing and Little Stokes, owned by Mrs. R. T. Figgins, Chicago. Way-down, owned by the Chesapeake and Potomac, was a leg while running from the fire and was shot by a trainer. Damage was estimated at $100,000.

SEEDED STARS DRAWN TO-DAY

Top Ranking Men and Women Players See Action in Western Canada Meet

Vancouver, July 24.—Safety through yesterday's opening rounds, seeded players to-day swung into action in second and third-round matches as the western Canadian lawn tennis championships entered the second day of play.

All but one of the eight top seeded entries in the men's singles were slated to take the courts to-day and will probably find the competition somewhat stiffer than yesterday.

Met Driggs, Seattle, seeded No. 1, was to pair up with Woppe Sabhin, Portland, in a men's doubles match for his only set of the day.

Sabin, however, had his work cut out for him with four matches on hand. Scheduled to play in the boys under eighteen singles, the men's singles and the doubles, the young Portland star was to team up with Mrs. Golda Meyer Gross, San Francisco, in the mixed doubles in the final match of the day.

Bob Harmon, San Francisco, seeded No. 2, who advanced with a 6-1, 6-0 victory over Jack Duncan, Vancouver, yesterday was to meet the winner of the George Sparling-Harper Masie match, which was to be a three-round men's singles encounter.

STALL WINN RASLEY

T. O. "Ole" Ryall, Vancouver, seeded No. 3 and British Columbia's chief hope to lift the men's crown, had little difficulty yesterday in routing back Walter Bess, California, 6-1, 6-0, and was expected to come through easily to-day in his match with Al Stevenson, Vancouver. C. E. Baigent, Victoria, only Vancouver Island entry in the tournament, bowed to R. deMille of Vancouver, 6-3, 2-6, 6-0, in the first round.

In the ladies' singles, the top seeded player, Mildred Connell, also of California, No. 2, Mariel Munro, Vancouver, is third in the ratings ahead of the veteran Mrs. George, San Francisco.

JASPER GOLF TOURNAMENT SET

Annual Week Tournament Will Be Staged at Popular Resort Next Month

Jasper Park Lodge, Alberta, July 24.—Although it has only been in active competition for eight years, the famous silver Tropic golf trophy, emblematic of the championship of Jasper Park Lodge golf week, is a much coveted trophy. To date it has traveled 15,000 miles to its credit, and shows no sign of any let-up.

The beautiful trophy is patterned after one of the most famous Indian totem poles of the Pacific Coast and is a magnificent example of the silversmith's art.

The first three years of competition it was won by Vancouver golfers. The fourth and fifth years of competition saw the trophy taken to New York, when that great golfer, Gardiner White, was successful. Then the trophy, by trip to Calgary as a result of the victory of J. Leslie Bell.

The next trip found the famous prize traveling across the ocean, as the winner was Major G. B. C. Tait, of the Fortnum Golf Club, Northern Ireland. Last year, after seven previous years of effort, Jack Starke, Edmonton, was successful in winning the event and the trophy was placed on view in the Macdonald Hotel.

Competition this year, which will be held during the week of August 26, promises to be featured by another strong challenge from the Pacific Coast. Last year Seattle made a determined attempt to obtain the trophy for the first time. Thomas Green Jr. of the Seattle Golf and Country Club, was defeated in the final by Starke. The Washington players are out this year to give the silver Tropic prize a new home this year, and with the fine golfers entered at this city date, will make

Chalk Up Eighteenth Pitching Victory; Second Place Cubs Victors

DETROIT TIGERS AND YANKS WIN

Jerome Dizzy Dean, a young man who can see so far ahead he's already asking $18,500 for next season's work, is strutting around the metropolis today looking for an argument on the subject. He won't get it from any of the St. Louis Cardinals who play baseball with him.

The young right hander did a lot of highly important things for St. Louis Red Birds yesterday. He pitched the Cards to a 6 to 5 decision over the world champion New York Giants, his eighteenth of the National League campaign, and the seventh straight for Frankie Frisch's outfit that suddenly has decided to go places.

He made it possible for the Cards to cut the lead of the world champions to three full games, with three more to go in the series. It was his fourth victory over the champions this season. To some, though, he is a hearing on this salary situation.

CARDS ARE THREAT

With the Chicago Cubs holding grimly to second place, two games back, not looking none too good in general, the Cards all of a sudden have become the team the Giants must beat back immediately, if the orderly procession of the last couple of months is to be maintained.

The Cubs held on grimly by beating down the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8 to 3, as Charley Grimm and Gabby Hartnett hit his homers and Bill Cuyler batted four hits, two of them doubles. Samuel Moore, Indian right hander, shaded Bill Swift in a pitching duel as the Phillies continued to lead the Cards with a 5 to 3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. The losing trail had no turn for Boston Braves, who dropped their sixth straight to the Cardinals, 4 to 2.

The New York Yankees continued the bitter chase of Mickey Cochrane's astonishing Detroit Tigers as Red Ruffing won his tenth victory of the season, 3 to 2, from the St. Louis Browns, with the aid of Lou Gehrig's twenty-seventh homer and another by Frank Crosetti. But it gained the New Yorkers nothing as the Tigers clung to a one-game lead by hammering down the Boston Red Sox, 7 to 2.

Sluggers had a field day in Cleveland and Chicago Jimmy Fox's pair of homers, for a total of thirty-two, helped the Philadelphia Athletics beat the Cleveland Indians, 11 to 1, as Joe Cronin's homer, double and single bulked large in Washington's 11 to 2 trouncing of the lowly Chicago White Sox.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

Rochester Red Wings were back on the uphill climb in the International League pennant race to-day after losing six straight games and sliding to third place below the pace setting Newark Bears and Toronto Maple Leafs.

They trail the Leeds by one game. The Wings, who won a 5 to 3 decision over Montreal Royals, Toronto also gained a game on the leaders by trouncing Buffalo Bisons, 7 to 2.

Joe Morrison and George McQuinn led the Leeds' twelve-hit attack. The best pitching performance of the day was turned in by Cliff McIntire, Baltimore. He pitched no-hit, no-run ball for seven innings and then allowed only two safe hits in the last, two of them singles. Orioles beat Syracuse Chiefs, 4 to 3.

First place Newark Bears saw their lead shrink to one and a half games when Art Herring, Albany Ruriers, shut them out with four hits and fanned eight as the Senators scored four to win a fast night game.

Mickey Walker Meets Corbett

San Francisco, July 24.—Mickey Walker will meet Young Corbett, Fresno, with his claim to the middleweight title at stake, in a ten-round match here August 14, the San Francisco Press Club, sponsoring the bout, announced to-day.

THE BIG SIX

With three hits in four trips to the plate, Paul Waner, Pittsburgh outfielder, took undisputed possession of first place in the National League batting standings yesterday. While Bill Terry was connecting with two hits to send his average to .361, brother Paul boosted his percentage to .369. Two of Terry's hired hands, Joe Moore and Mel Ott, were tied for the third position. In the American League, Joe Yonick displaced Lou Gehrig when the latter got only one hit in three times at bat.

Leaders in Senior Baseball League Humble Poodle Dog Cafe 12 to 5; Tommy Musgrave is Winning Pitcher; Heavy Hitting Witnessed

Featured by a seven-run scoring spurt in the sixth inning the Sons of Canada walloped the Poodle Dog 12 to 5 in yesterday evening's Senior Baseball League fixture at the Athletic Park. The victory moved the lodgement further in front of the pack. The game saw lots of scoring and plenty of heavy hitting, including two triples by Tommy Musgrave, Sen's hurler, and Red Bennett, speedy shortstop of the cafemen.

Except for a period of wildness in the seventh inning when he walked three men in a row to load the bases, Musgrave had matters well in control. He allowed the Poodle Dog six hits, struck out six and walked four. Bill Holman started in the box for the cafemen but after allowing eleven hits for a like number of runs in five and one-third innings, he was yanked in favor of Leo Holden. The latter allowed one run and two hits. It marked Holden's return to the mound after a long lay-off due to a sore arm.

MAKES FINE CATCH Highlight of the game came in the seventh inning when Bill Holman, petty centre-fielder of the Sons, pulled off a sensational one-handed spear of Holden's terrific drive that was headed for the fence.

Three hits, including Bennett's triple, and an error gave the Poodle Dog two runs in the first half of the first inning. The Sons came back in the second and tied the score on three singles. The Canadians got another pair in the second to move into the lead which they retained for the remainder of the game. The Sons got another pair in the fifth and clinched their scoring with seven in the sixth. The Poodle Dog wound up matters with three in the seventh. The game was called in the eighth on account of darkness.

PRO TOURNEY GETS STARTED

Field of 113 Tees Off at Buffalo in Annual Play for U.S. Golf Crown

Buffalo, N.Y., July 24.—Olin Dutra, the swarthy United States open king, yesterday arrived on the scene of the seventeenth annual Professional Golfers' Association championship, which opened to-day, and soon had the rest of the boys guessing and guessing.

"Hi-ya, boys!" Olin greeted his well-wishers. "I've got it again, so you'd better watch out."

They didn't need to be told what he meant, and he didn't leave any doubt in their minds. Olin was suffering from an attack of amnesia, a condition which he had at the start of the 1934 open championship and he had to be coached by his brother, Mortie, to play in the tournament. He is suffering from the same malady again, and started in the thirty-six-hole qualifying round to-day, with 113 other title hopefuls, against the advice of his doctor.

GOODWINS TAKE SOFTBALL CUP

Goodwin's Grocery boys to-day stood champions of the junior division of the Lower Island Softball League, twice victors over Adam's Grocery team, which topped the standings at the end of regular league play.

Yesterday evening Goodwin's whipped their rivals 12 to 3 at Central Park, before a good crowd, to annex the series in two straight games.

As a result they will hold the Jokers Cup for a year and may represent the lower island in the island finals which will send victors into the provincial play-off.

Score by innings: Adam's Grocery 001000200—3 Goodwin's Grocery 02002203—12

Eastern Football Finalists in Tie

Toronto, July 24.—Flood Mines Ontario titlists, battled to a 1 to 1 draw here yesterday evening in the second game with Verdun Park for the eastern Canada soccer championship. The rivals clash again to-morrow evening in the third game of the series to select a team to meet the western Canada winners.

MURIO TAKES STATE TITLE

Defeats Worth Oswald in Straight Sets for Washington Tennis Crown

Seattle, July 24.—John Murio flashed his best tennis to date yesterday evening to win the state title in the Washington state tennis championship, which opened to-day, and soon had the rest of the boys guessing and guessing.

The par 73 Park Club layout was whipped by a stiff breeze yesterday, but it didn't affect the scores. Donny Babin, who defeated Bob Underwood, took the point in the long rallies, winning them with delicate placements or by forcing his opponent to err as he attempted to pass the nimble Hawaiian at the net. In the match Murio had a total of 39 placements to Oswald's 19, a mark that shows how cleanly Murio was hitting the ball.

The men's doubles title went to Bill Seward, Los Angeles, and Oswald trophy by defeating Mrs. Margaret Laird of Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-4.

A hard-fought five-set battle found Wayne Sabin of Portland evening the count with Bobby Harmon, Berkeley's national boys champion, at two victories each. Sabin won the junior title Sunday, 1-6, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3, making it two wins in as many days, as he had captured the northwest junior title at Tacoma on Saturday by defeating Harmon. The Berkeley youth won from the Portland flash twice at the Rose City a few weeks ago, winning in men's singles and junior play.

In all, Murio broke through Oswald's service three times in each of the three sets and Oswald smashed Murio's twice each set. Oswald's most effective stroke proved to be a drop shot which Murio repeatedly battled into the net in the few times he could reach the ball.

Coast Players Win In Canadian Tennis

Caroline Deacon and Eleanor Young Are Impressive at Opening of National Tournament at Toronto; All Stars Advance in Men's Singles

Toronto, July 24.—If first impressions count—and there is every indication they will—a trio of racket stars from the Prairies and the Rockies should advance to upper brackets of the Canadian tennis championship agenda.

In the first round fixtures yesterday Winnipeg's two entrants broke even, Eddie McKush, Manitoba titleholder, scoring an easy two-set victory over C. W. M. Service, Toronto, to the tune of 6-2, 6-4 and Harley Hopper dropping his match to Harry Deyes, seeded star from Jamaica, 6-4, 6-7.

When dueling from the baseline, Hopper held his own with the steady, hard-hitting Deyes, but the Jamaican had the advantage and used it in the second set.

COAST STARS WIN Vancouver's youthful entries in the women's singles, Caroline Deacon and Eleanor Young, found the spotlight at once with impressive displays of power. Miss Deacon crushed Mrs. A. Griffin, Toronto, 6-1, 6-2, and Miss Young hammered out a 6-2, 6-1 victory over Margaret Boulton, Toronto.

Gilbert Munna, Toronto, finalist against Marcel Rainville in the Ontario event last week, had the smallest margin of safety among the stars who marched through two rounds. Munna almost dropped a set to a red-headed youngster from Montreal, Louis Duff, 6-4, 9-8.

The Quebec junior played as well against Munna in the second set that he had a small gallery cheering him. The big Davis Cup captain was never in really serious difficulties and seemed to enjoy Duff's fine placement shots as much as the spectators. In his first round match, Munna defeated R. M. Singer, Toronto, 6-1, 6-0.

Walter Martin, his Ontario title in Rainville's hands, drew a bye in the first round and scored a 6-1, 6-4 victory over Donald Gunn, Toronto, in the second round. Rainville also moved up to the second round without playing and polished off J. Leibel, Toronto, 6-0, 6-1, to gain the third round.

Deyes's flashy partner, Donald Leabong, accounted for the veteran Gordon Spenser, Toronto, 6-1, 6-4. Spenser made many of the rallies long, but he was unable to keep pace with the brilliant Leabong, who seemed to score at will.

Laird Watt, Montreal, won twice, eliminating G. R. Wadden, Toronto, in the first round by 6-0, 6-3, then upsetting W. C. Powell, Toronto, 6-2, 6-0. Bob Murray, of Montreal, advanced through a default.

But Henry Paul Emdar, Toronto, bumped squarely into trouble twice and lost one set before reaching the third round. L. Wilson, Toronto, gave the French-Canadian player a routing twice before succumbing, 10-5, 6-4.

Young Art Anderson, Toronto, former Ontario junior champion, was even more successful. He won the second set against Emdar, who won by 6-1, 1-6, 6-3.

The day's hardest-fought match was between Maurice Margeson, University of Toronto player, and Gordon Shilde, Toronto, former Vancouver star. Shilde triumphed at 6-6, 6-1, 6-4, but Margeson forced the only player to win a set from Rainville last week to the limit.

Twice champion of Ontario, Mrs. Gilbert Munna, Toronto, won by 6-3, 6-4 over June Merrill, Toronto, and Montreal's chief hope, Little Billings, former Ontario titleholder, was carried to three sets by pretty Mrs. W. R. Walton, Toronto, before winning at 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

Lots Hofmeister, Chicago, disposed of Pauline Barber, Toronto, with the aid of only two games, and the other United States entrant, Mrs. Catharine Ross, Los Angeles, defeated Mary Carr, Toronto, 6-1, 6-4.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am planning on being married soon and it is my ambition to make my fiancée the happiest wife in the world. Can you suggest the ten best rules to follow in order that I may do so? BILL.

Answer—Well, BILL, any man can make his wife happy if he wants to and if he deliberately sets out to do so. The trouble with most men is that they think that just being married to them is all that any woman could possibly desire in the world and that when they have put a ring on a girl's finger they have done all that she has a right to expect of them. They think that any wife can sit up and get all the best out of life she wants by just gazing on her marriage certificate.

Which isn't the case, of course. Marriage can get mighty dull and monotonous in the course of twenty-five or thirty years if the husband doesn't do anything to pep it up for his wife. And so if a husband wants to keep his wife thinking herself the luckiest woman in the world he should do something about it. And here are the ten rules that I should suggest for him to follow:

- First. Keep up the line by which he won her. Don't drop all courtship at the altar. Before marriage a woman had many men to tell her how beautiful and wonderful she was. After marriage she has only one, so it is up to him to keep her glowing by the sweet talk.
- Second. Make it part of your daily down to pay your wife a compliment. That keeps up her morale. A wife's public is her husband, and if he never gives her the glad hand she is apt to slump. She thinks, what's the use in doling up myself for a man who never notices what I have on, or wearing myself out cooking a good dinner for a husband who gobbles it down without apparently knowing the difference between hash and a ragout?
- Third. Keep yourself shaven and shorn and easy on your wife's eyes. Women care even more for appearance than men do and no wife looks at a slouchy, slovenly husband with a three days' stubble of beard on his face without wondering why she did it.
- Fourth. Be as entertaining at home as you are abroad. Don't be the life of the party and a stuffed shirt, or your own friend. No woman's idea of a happy evening is spending it with a man who only grunts when he is spoken to and never makes a voluntary remark, except to knock something she has done or left undone. Women marry for companionship. See that your wife gets some.
- Fifth. Be a little ray of sunshine. No woman can make a happy home by herself. This is a two-handed job that takes both a husband and wife working together to pull off. Don't save all the temper and nerves and irritability that you dared not show the public for home consumption. Make yourself as agreeable to your wife as you would to any woman to whom you are trying to sell a bill of goods.
- Sixth. Deal generously with your wife about money. Give her not only a housekeeping allowance but an allowance for herself. No woman can run a house economically if she doesn't know how much she has to spend. And no woman ever forgives a man who makes her come to him like a beggar for every cent. Giving a wife an allowance saves him like a beggar for every cent. Giving a wife an allowance saves him 263 breakfast-table squats a year. It preserves a wife's self-respect and makes her think of her husband as a partner instead of a tightwad.
- Seventh. Don't treat your wife's family as if they were poison and set as if you were being martyred every time they come on a visit. You may not love them, but she does, and if she failed in affection and loyalty to the mother who bore her and the father who taught her to support him and the brothers and sisters she grew up with, she would lack the very qualities that make her desirable as a wife.
- Eighth. Make little treats for your wife. Give her surprises. Take her on little trips. Remember anniversaries. Do something to keep her thinking that you still regard her as a Lady Love instead of a household convenience. Spending a little money on giving a wife a good time is the best investment any man ever makes.
- Ninth. Chum with your wife. Talk to her about the things that she is interested in. Tell her of your hopes and plans. It is the easiest thing in the world for a man to get so absorbed in his business and for a woman to get so obsessed with the children that they lose touch with each other and drift apart, and come to be such strangers that they cannot even carry on a conversation together, because neither knows anything of the other's inner life. Watch out or this will happen to you.
- Tenth. Don't take your wife for granted. She isn't a mind-reader and doesn't know that you love her and appreciate her and think she is the greatest woman in the world. Never cease telling her how marvelous you think she is, and if you will do that she will be the happiest woman in the world and the most content.

DEAR MISS DIX—About six years ago my sister brought a young married woman home with her for a visit. We became attracted to each other and I finally obtained a divorce from my wife and she later obtained a divorce from her husband and we plan to be married. But lately I have been thrown in contact with a business way with a young woman whom I have always greatly admired and respected, and we have fallen very much in love with each other. I have tried to give her up and she has run away from her, but I can't do it. She is different from any girl I have ever known and I know we could be very happy together. However, as I feel partly responsible for my fiancée's divorce I feel in honor bound to marry her. Please advise me what to do. PUZZLED MAN.

Answer—Don't marry No. 2. Don't marry No. 2. Don't marry any woman whatever, no matter how much you may think you are in love with her at the time. For you are one of the unstable men who are only capable of a passing fancy and you have no right to mess up women's lives by marrying them.

There are plenty of men like you who should kiss and ride away, always in the opposite direction from the altar. They should never marry. They may be behind them a few weeping damsels, but they will not leave a trail of broken-hearted and forsaken wives sitting amid the ruins of their homes, with little half-orphaned children clinging to their skirts that they have to go out into the world to support because their father is paying alimony to two or three divorced wives.

A man who is lured by every pretty face and to whom every fluttering skirt is a challenge to get up and follow should recognize his own weakness and have enough humanity about him to make innocent women the victims of his constitutional lack of emotional stability. Such a man could not be loyal and faithful if he tried, and he never tries. He has always a roving foot and a wandering eye and there will always be some woman who will have an allure that his wife doesn't possess.

So have a heart and don't marry. You tired of your wife. You are tired of this new girl who is "different" for she wouldn't be different if you married her. She would be just like all the balance once she was your wife. You would weary of any woman as soon as the charm of her novelty wore off.

You may hurt their vanity a little in forsaking them before marriage, but you won't give them the mortal wound that you will deal them in forcing them to divorce you if they marry you. No woman can have a greater grief than being a philanderer's wife. DOROTHY DIX.

However, this is read as a fortunate omen for those who are at home. Such travel is not recommended. It is not an auspicious time to sign legal papers or to divorce your partner. Stock market prices should be ignored. Although there may be a slight possibility of a change in the weather, it is not a day for starting anything new. This is not a day for starting anything new. THREE MEN DROWNED
Oyster Park, Mont., July 24 (Associated Press)—Three Civilian Conservation Corps workers were drowned in Lake Sherburne yesterday when a launch carrying seven men suddenly sank just after the party and tallow took off from the dock for the opposite shore with luncheon for another group of forest workers. The other four men escaped to reach shore.
